

PADUCAH, OAK RIDGE A-WORKERS STRIKE

SHORE LINE AND LAND AREA OF NEW LAKE HARRISBURG

THIS ENGINEER'S MAP of the shore line and the land area to be partially covered, indicates the extent of the new Harrisburg City water storage reservoir. The reservoir is a part of the city water system improvements authorized under a $200,000 revenue bond issue. Attention is now being directed toward completion of the lake in order to take advantage of possible fall and winter rains, then the city filter plant will be enlarged and improved, and some additional mains will be laid. Under normal rainfall conditions, the lake area is calculated in one year, to retain sufficient water to last the city of Harrisburg for a period of as much as three years.

THE MAP WAS PREPARED by R. D. Brown, engineer on the project. A close study indicates the magnitude of the lake area. The lake will be north of the state highway leading to Galatia, and is generally in the northwestern part of Raleigh township, extending slightly across the line into Long Branch township. As will be noted, the land includes parts of sections 5, 6 and 7 in Raleigh (8-6) township and parts of sections 31 and 32 in Long Branch (7-6) township. North and south, the land runs two and one-quarter sections or two and one-quarter miles. Running north a mile and a quarter, it turns eastward then another mile northward across the township line.

A PART OF ALL THE LAND shown on the map will be involved in the lake, but not all of it will be required. In some areas, only a part will be purchased. In others, all will be purchased and parts traded so farmers' lands in the area will be contiguous. Judge D. F. Rumsey, attorney for the project, is now completing negotiations with land owners, and most of the deeds and abstracts have been furnished for study. When completed, the water line at high level, with two feet over the spillway, will follow the heavy lines on the map. The scale as indicated will not be correct, as the map has been reduced. The project includes raising or re-routing some roads and the raising of at least one bridge.

Hits Production Of Materials For A-Weapons

Walkout Occurs Despite Special Board Named by President

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UP) — The nation's production of essential materials for atomic weapons was hit for the first time today by a strike of 4,550 workers at gaseous diffusion plants at Oak Ridge and Paducah, Ky.

Supervisory workers attempted to keep production going on a limited scale.

The two huge plants are the United States' only sources of fissionable Uranium 235, essential to the production of atomic weapons.

Officials of the CIO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers union threw up picket lines at Oak Ridge at 3 a. m. CST, idling about 3,000 workers. An hour later the situation was duplicated at the Kentucky plant, where another 1,000 quit work.

There have been numerous labor disputes during construction of the atomic facilities but never before a strike of production workers.

So far, AFL crafts who work in the plants appeared to be crossing the picket lines without molestation.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington refused to comment on the strike.

Board Set Up

The strike, which could possibly cripple the nation's production of atomic and hydrogen weapons got under way despite creation of a special board of inquiry by President Eisenhower in an effort to stave off the walkout.

The diffusion plants at the two Atomic Energy Commission facilities produce the United States' entire supply of fissionable Uranium 235 which AEC Chairman Lewis Strauss said is "essential to the production of atomic weapons both fission and thermonuclear (H-bomb) types."

The CIO union and the AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council are both involved in a wage dispute with the Union Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Corp., operator of the plants for the AEC. AFL officials said they would not call a walkout "at this time."

There are about 3,000 CIO production workers here and 971 at Paducah. Most of them are maintenance workers, controlling the thousands of pumps and motors and the vast system of pipes in which Uranium 235 is created.

Expect Gov't to Seek Injunction

WASHINGTON (UP) — Informed sources said today they expect the government to get a Taft-Hartley anti-strike injunction in time to prevent complete shutdown of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., atomic plants.

This was disclosed shortly after President Eisenhower said at his news conference that he hopes CIO strikers will go back to their jobs at Oak Ridge and Paducah. He said the strike would be a very serious thing for the United States if it continues.

The sources predicting an anti-strike injunction said it will be obtained by the end of this week. They said they understand supervisory workers can keep the plants dairy operating at least that long and perhaps until Monday.

The two plants make Uranium 235, an atomic explosive. Another atomic explosive, plutonium, is made at the Hanford, Wash., and Savannah River, S. C., plants which are not involved in the strike.

Mr. Eisenhower created an emergency fact-finding board Tuesday night as a step toward invoking the Taft-Hartley injunction procedure. AFL craft workers at Paducah and Oak Ridge are not striking, pending the board's report, although they are involved in the wage dispute.

But the CIO, Gas, Coke, and Chemical Workers union went on strike today.

By TIMOTHEUS T.

AERIAL DEPT: I've finally read the news I've been waiting for. Or maybe I should say I've finally read the news for which I have been waiting, in case any English teachers are still in the city.

I've always wanted a helicopter. Some people have wanted fine trailers, others have always longed for marimba, and some have yearned for yachts, et cetera.

But, except for two or three weeks last summer following the big storm, when I yearned for a power saw, I've wanted a helicopter.

So I was overjoyed when I read this small item:

"A 'poor man's' helicopter, to cost $560 if produced in quantity, is being tested in England, according to the publication, Aviation Week. The copter now is undergoing tethered tests, limited to 10 feet above the ground."

Just think of going through the wilderness in a helicopter. No snakes.

And going to work I could rise straight up in the back yard, then take off in a bee-line to the top of The Daily Register office, and I'd like to suggest to the management right now that they fix a convenient way to come down off the roof. A fireman's pole or something.

Still daydreaming, wouldn't it be nice to use to take in a football game at Champaign. While the automobiles down below were jamming all around the place, you could fly over the heap and come down right by the field. And coming back it would be marvelous. Another bee-line over the traffic.

Eisenhower to Oppose Letting Red China in UN

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today the United States will fight to the bitter end to keep Red China out of the United Nations. But he refused to say whether this country would withdraw from the world organization if the fight were lost.

Mr. Eisenhower told his weekly news conference that he is completely and unalterably opposed to the admission of Red China to the U. N. and that he thinks 95 per cent of the American people feel the same way.

He conceded that other countries could override the United States and vote Red China into the U. N. but he expressed hope this would not happen. The President said he would certainly fight any such move as hard as he could.

Mr. Eisenhower said he has not decided what to do if Red China is admitted to the U. N. He explained that he believes in taking up problems as they arise.

Farm Bill Acceptable

Mr. Eisenhower also told his news conference: 1. He is delighted with progress Congress has made on his legislative program during the past week. He said he believes the prospects are rosy for the Republicans to place before the public this fall a record of accomplishment of which any administration could be proud.

2. The farm bill passed by the House last week was completely acceptable to him even though it provided for flexible price supports in the range of 82.5 per cent to 90 per cent of parity rather than 75 per cent to 90 per cent as had proposed.

3. His administration, in supporting measures to end segregation, is doing what it considers decent.

Reach 1,422 Feet At Smith Oil Test

Drilling had reached a depth of 1,422 feet at the A. L. Smith No. 1 test in Section 2 of Independence township today. This was past the 1,413 feet depth where there was oil showing reported several years ago.

Joe Ashoff, operator, said that drilling would continue along in an exploratory nature for possible oil showings.

Elderly Woman Explains to Police About Shooting Gun

The title in Harrisburg now is "Grannie Get Your Gun." City police early last night received a call from a woman on South McKinley avenue. She stated a woman living across the street from her had fired a shotgun at her house.

Police arrived and went to the home, where they found an 83-year-old woman. She had fired a 12-gauge shotgun all right, but the shot had made a hole in her porch.

The elderly woman explained satisfactorily to police that she was giving it away to a man and was unloading it on the front porch when it accidentally fired. There was a hole in the porch and powder burns around it to prove her point.

Carrier Mills Lions Ask Help In Clearing Land

Does Carrier Mills want a community park?

That is a question about which some doubt has arisen in the minds of the Lions club members, who bought a five acre tract of land on the Jasper Harris farm, and rely upon some encouragement and help from the men of the community to convert it into a park.

Thursday will probably tell the tale, for on Thursday afternoon Lions club members are asking other men of the community to bring their axes, saws and heavy hoes to help clean up this five acre tract of woodland, after which further improvement will be considered—provided there is sufficient community interest, promising cooperation in completion and preserving the improvement.

Harry McAtee is chairman of the park improvement committee in the Lions club and has asked all who can and are willing to work for an hour or two to come at 4 p. m. or as soon thereafter as they can leave their work.

A similar project in Carrier Mills was abandoned about three years ago, because of vandalism. Does Carrier Mills want a park and playground for its children? Are the children willing to help to take care of play property if it is made available for their use? The Lions would like to know.

Grover Clayton, 66, Dies; Funeral Friday at 2 p. m.

Grover Clayton, 66, of Brushy, retired maintenance worker who was employed as a carpenter by the Peabody Coal company at mine No. 47 until that mine closed, died Tuesday at Wohl hospital, St. Louis. He had been a patient there for a few weeks.

His funeral will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at Union Chapel Cumberland Presbyterian church, of which he was a member, and burial will be at Brushy cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ollie Allen, and one daughter, Mrs. William McClrath, also residing in Brushy township. A brother, Charles Clayton, lives in California.

Mr. Clayton served in the Regular Army in his early manhood, and was for several years a country correspondent for The Daily Register.

His body lies in state at the Courtney funeral home.

Begin Construction On Building for Ellis Trucking Company

Construction of the garage and office building for the Ellis Trucking Co. began yesterday.

This building is being constructed on Route 45 just northeast of the SEIEC garage by J. Cecil Sullivan and F. M. "Pat" Sullivan.

The ground was staked off yesterday and digging out for the footings began immediately.

J. Cecil Sullivan said this morning that there were prospects of pouring the concrete footings this afternoon.

Ellis hopes to be in the building by Aug. 15. The company is moving its Marion, Ky., terminal to Harrisburg.

The building, of concrete masonry, will contain 2,600 feet of floor space.

Tornadoes Hit Southern Wisconsin; Giant Wave Against Chicago Lakeshore

By United Press

A savage, freakish storm raked southern Wisconsin with tornadoes and 100 mile-per-hour winds and sent the second giant wave in two weeks crashing against the Chicago lakeshore.

A man drowned and a mother and her three children were injured in the collapse of their home before the storm's fury abated late Tuesday night.

The same storm system sent gusts up to 90 miles per hour sweeping into Mason City, Iowa, deluged Milwaukee, Wis., with two inches of rain, and pounded Waukegan, Ill., with hailstones as big as half dollars.

The storm struck hardest at the Madison, Wis., area, although the city itself did not suffer its full force.

Buildings were leveled, streets were blocked and telegraph circuits were cut as the storm cut a swath from Sun Prairie southwest through Cambridge and Elkhorn.

Mrs. Mary Weber of Janesville, Wis., and her three children, aged 4 to 1, were seriously injured when the winds battered down their summer home near Cambridge. Another serious accident was narrowly averted at Cambridge when a tree smashed onto a car carrying two persons. Neither was injured.

Tornadoes were reported at Bristol, Sun Prairie, Cambridge, and near Elkhorn and a water spout was seen over Lake Koshkonong, near Janesville.

The "tail end" of the twisters swept into northern Illinois, touching off violent storms in Chicago suburbs and the city itself.

A "seiche" — the same sort of rare giant wave that killed eight persons in Chicago June 26—rolled onto North Side beaches. Coast Guardsmen, anticipating the wave, prevented another tragedy by warning fishermen and bathers from the shore.

Nick Dentemaro, harbor master at Montrose Harbor, said Tuesday night's "seiche" was even bigger than its predecessor. The wave washed over sidewalks and into a parking lot, where it swamped six autos, he said.

The Lake Michigan storm swamped a small boat in which William Urban, 28, and his pregnant wife, Vivian, 20, were fishing off Waukegan, Ill. Urban drowned, but his wife clung to the boat until help reached her.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said the storm system would move eastward, centering over southern Ohio by tonight.

Jet Plane Hits Homes in Kansas City; Four Dead

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UP) — A jet plane crashed in a residential area near Kansas City's downtown business district today, killing at least four persons, including the pilot.

The plane identified as an Air Force F-84F Thunderstreak, roared in from the northwest, clipped a small frame residence with such impact that it collapsed, slithered across a street and crashed into another frame home.

The aircraft blew up when it hit the second house, setting it and two adjoining houses afire. Before impact with the second house, the plane cascaded across a used car lot, dragging several vehicles into the holocaust with it.

The body of the pilot, not immediately identified, was recovered along with the bodies of three others from the flaming residences.

Two of the bodies were identified as two school teachers, Susan Langford and Edna Hoffman. Another was identified as a paralytic Negro, Earl Redwine, who lived in the basement of one of the burned houses.

Senate Group Votes Higher Dairy Supports

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Senate Agriculture Committee, in a new rebuff to the administration, voted today to raise dairy price supports to 85 per cent of parity. The present level is 75 per cent.

Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) said the action would be "disastrous" to the dairy industry at this time and he is "confident" the Senate will strike out the provision.

The vote in committee was 8-7 for the price support increase, proposed by Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn.).

Dairy products — dried milk, cheese and butter — were supported at 90 per cent of fair price parity until April 1 this year when Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson dropped them to 75 per cent because of massive surpluses that the government had to buy.

Senate Group Ups House Version

In a general farm bill adopted last week, the House voted to raise dairy supports 5 points, to 80 per cent of parity, for the period beginning Sept. 1 through next March 30.

The Senate committee went much further — voting to raise them 10 percentage points and for the period from Sept. 1, 1954, to Aug. 31, 1955.

The Senate committee also:

1. Adopted, 8-7, a motion by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) to permit the agriculture secretary to support dairy products by making direct payments to either producers or processors during the next two years.

2. Struck down, on a 13-2 vote, a prior tentative agreement to make potatoes eligible for federal price supports. Potatoes have been banned from the support program since 1950, as a result of surplus scandals.

GUATEMALAN TRIUMPH SHOWS HOW TO KILL RED 'CANCERS'

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
The crushing of Communist and pro-Communist government elements in Guatemala represents a smashing triumph for freedom in the Western Hemisphere.

The 12-day revolution which brought about this result was a series of maneuvers in an area of the globe notorious for strange wars and stranger politics.

For days, the rebel forces led by Col. Carlos Castillo Armas seemed to be fighting a shadow action. Information was scanty, and outsiders concluded after a while that the revolt probably would collapse.

Later it was realized there had been more fighting than could be reported. And when Colonel Castillo's small air force swung into fuller action and was unopposed, the war's complexion changed.
Important towns fell to the rebels, and they marched toward the capital of Guatemala City.

Suddenly, the impact of this gathering storm was felt at the palace. The pro-Red regime of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman signed, and was replaced by a military junta under Col. Carlos Enrique Diaz.

Distant observers were skeptical of the move, fearing a trick by Arbenz. Even the junta's outlawing of the Communist Party failed to convince. Colonel Costello said the war would go on until the government met rebel demands for the complete crushing of the country's Communist elements.

There followed another palace coup, with another junta headed by tough Col. Eliezer J. Monzon, moving into replace Colonel Diaz.
This time the Reds were really given the axe. The action satisfied rebel leaders. And under the auspices of the Organization of American States, a cease-fire was arranged.

Thus, though the rebels never put a ground force in the capital and never took more than a fair portion of the country, their persistence, their tiny but damaging air force, and the moral backing given anti-Communist elements by the United States produced the dramatic ouster of the Reds and their sympathizers.

How much material assistance, how much strategic guidance this country might have given the rebels may not be known for some time. Indications are it was not much.

What did count heavily was the presence of American Ambassador John Peurifoy, symbol of the great power to the north. Quietly but forcefully, he lent moral strength to the men who were emboldened to overturn Arbenz and clean out the Communists.

The Communist sore spot in the Western Hemisphere was rubbed out while it was still small. That it could happen as it did must be set down as a minor miracle. But it did occur, and it spells victory.
Happily, we were not afraid to use at least some of our weight quickly and effectively.

The need for unflinching vigilance close to home is an obvious lesson from Guatemala. A bigger one may be this: America must use its moral and material power speedily, in the early stages of trouble, if it would really wipe out or check the Communist cancers that arise to infect this globe.
In many cases it is now too late;
but Guatemala provided instruction for the future.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Nehru Charmed By Chou's
Sweet Talk; Thye Doesn't Pull Punches Against Big Business;
Russians To 'Dare' Chinese
Nationalists To Take On Reds' Destroyers.

WASHINGTON, — Here is the inside story behind Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai's secret talks with Indian Prime Minister Nehru and Burmese Prime Minister U. Nu.

Technically, Chou En-Lai was invited to both countries. But actually the Chinese Communists slipped around in advance, hinted that Chou would like to pay a visit, and fished for the invitation. It was then given.

The chief object of Chou's visit was a nonaggression pact with India and Burma before we can get them signed up in a Southeast Asia defense pact.

The American embassy reports that Nehru was simply charmed by the Chinese premier's sweet talk about peace.

Note — One of the most tragic mistakes of the Eisenhower administration in the Far East was the removal of Chester Bowles as ambassador to India on the eve of some of the most important discussions we have ever had with that country. Bowles, an intimate friend of Nehru's, was by all odds the most popular ambassador to India. He has ever sent to India.
George Allen, who replaced him,
was doing an A-1 job in Yugoslavia.
But it takes entirely different tactics to deal with Tito, the dictator, than with Nehru, the philosopher and mystic.

Some of the big flour and soap companies have been promoting each other's products by cross-

RUSSIAN BEAR GROWS

U. S. Ambassador Bohlen in Moscow has warned the Pentagon that the Russian high command may order destroyers to escort all Soviet tankers and merchantmen in Far East waters.

The Russians are furious because Chinese Nationalist warships intercepted and seized one of their best tankers, and they probably will retaliate by daring the Nationalists to take on the Russian destroyers which will accompany them from now on.

The Russians know that the United States had a naval seaplane circling over the Russian tanker most of the time before it was seized. The plane was in direct contact with the Chinese Nationalists and tipped them off where to pick up the tanker. However, the United States did not have one of its own warships involved.

HEYDAY FOR POWER BOYS

The Federal Power Commission is now so anxious to please the private power companies that it actually threw out 10 hours of testimony by its former chairman, Leland Olds, when he opposed the Idaho Power Company's plan for damming the Snake River.

Ex-Chairman Olds testified that the government should construct a high dam at Hells Canyon, which in the end would be cheaper for the taxpayers and would mean cheaper power rates for Idaho-Oregon users. After testifying for two half days, however, all he was able to get into the record was his name and address. Everything else was struck out by the presiding examiner, William J. Costello, at the request of the Idaho Power Company. They claimed it was irrelevant.

Costello also threw out the heart of the testimony by Clyde Ellis, manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. Ellis also supported government development of Hells Canyon and opposed the Idaho Power Company.

This is another example of why
the Federal Power Commission
now has the worst reputation in Washington for selling out to the private interests.

spends more money in Washington than any other to influence Congress—a total of about half a million dollars a year.

INSIDE THE WHITE HOUSE

COMPARE SPECIFICATIONS INSTEAD of CLAIMED REGULAR PRICE!

WATCH FOR THESE SYMPTOMS OF FAKE SALES

When there is a great difference in sale price and claimed regular price without giving sensible reason for sale and without giving definite specifications and description of merchandise.

Watch Free Gift Offers where free gift and article on sale are not both described and specifications given.

Go slow when salesmen avoid questions about specifications by changing the subject and try to high pressure you into buying without giving you a chance to compare specifications.

Be careful of stores which continually claim to be having a sale and don't give sensible reasons or definite specifications.

Watch when salesmen talk down the item advertised and attempt to step you up to a higher priced item.

FALSE LABELING

Some mattress manufacturers will sew a $59.50 price label on a $39.50 or even a $29.50 innerspring mattress. There are dealers who will claim that such a mattress is a $59.50 mattress and that they are offering it on sale at $39.50 or less. The customer's only protection against such sharp practices is to compare specifications from store to store and buy from a reliable store who will tell them the truth.

Announce July 3 Marriage of Miss Eleanor Wilson and John Lynn Curran

(Ronnie's Studio Photo)
Mr. and Mrs. John Lynn Curran

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dale Wilson, 1027 South Webster street, are announcing the marriage of their eldest daughter, Eleanor, and John Lynn Curran, Chicago, formerly of Houston, Tex.

Their wedding took place Saturday afternoon, July 3, at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist church. The Rev. Joe Morman, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of pink printed nylon and a white picture hat with veil, and white shoes. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Her sister, Carolyn, who graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school this spring, was the bridesmaid and she wore a pink flowered organza dress with white hat and shoes, and wore a corsage of white lace and stephanotis.

Ronald Dale Wilson Jr., was the best man. He is a pre-medical student at the University of Illinois, and a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, at home on vacation.

The altar was decorated with emerald trees and baskets of white gladioli and pink majestic daisies.

Mrs. Wilson, mother of the bride, wore a black and white summer print dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

Because of the severe illness of Mrs. Wilson's mother, and the fact that she has been at her bedside for the past month, a very quiet wedding was planned, with only the family in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson, an uncle and aunt, and Walter Pettigrew, St. Louis, a cousin, were among those present.

After the wedding the couple left for their wedding trip, after which they will occupy an apartment in Chicago, and will continue in their employment there. He is a welder, and she is employed by the Illinois Agriculture Association in the investment department. She was graduated in 1951 from the HTHS and attended the University of Illinois for two years before accepting her present employment.

Her mother is a teacher at Dorrisville school and her father is the Saline County Superintendent of Schools and a former grade school principal in Harrisburg.

Christian Women Hold Program on Race Problems

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian church met for their regular monthly meeting in the Fellowship hall of the church. The incoming officers were hostesses.

Mrs. Myrtle Adams, vice president, called the meeting to order with prayer in the absence of the president. The World Call quiz was held by members. The devotion was led by Mrs. Frank Gray, the theme "Cities of Refuge," taken from the topic, "What is the City—but the People."

The lesson was led by Miss Bess Pemberton on the "Minority Group of People" and what we can do to help them. A discussion followed in how we could try to overcome the prejudiced feeling Americans have for people of the minority groups. Mrs. Frelan Smith gave the topic, "Ministry to the Minority Group," and Mrs. Glen Daugherty, "I'm in the Minority." Mrs. Harold Boatright read excerpts from letters to those who have helped members of the minority groups.

Those present were Mrs. Gladys Parker, Mrs. Frelan Smith, Mrs. Myrtle Adams, Mrs. Harold Boatright, Miss Bess Pemberton, Mrs. Carrie Young, Mrs. Glen Daugherty, Mrs. Frank Gray, and Mrs. Carl Corrie and Miss Doris Jean Boatright.

The August meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. C. Parks, 332 East Locust, on August 6.

Janet Kay Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hall, 1122 South Webster street, is spending a week's vacation in Centralia with friends.

Kerr Piles Up Lead in Senate Race in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—(P)—Sen. Robert S. Kerr piled up a commanding lead in the Oklahoma primary today, but it was nip and tuck whether he would be forced into a runoff with his strongest opponent.

With 2,380 of the state's 3,154 precincts counted, Kerr had 177,122 votes to 152,425 for his main challenger for the Democratic senatorial nomination, former Gov. Roy J. Turner.

The combined vote of seven also-rans was 29,181, but some 200 precincts failed to report the vote for those candidates, so their combined total actually was higher. Since Kerr's lead was only 24,697, it appeared he would not get the clear majority necessary to avoid a runoff.

The primary vote Tuesday was watched by 200 unarmed National Guardsmen in five eastern counties. Gov. Johnston Murray had called out the troops to prevent election frauds, but no incidents were reported.

Though the count was incomplete it was plain who the runoff candidates for the Democrats' gubernatorial nomination would be.

State Sen. Raymond Gary led the field of 16 with 99,352 votes from 2,055 precincts. Runner-up, and Gary's runoff opponent, was William O. Coe, an Oklahoma City attorney. Coe got 94,448 in the incomplete returns.

Much post-election comment dealt with Mrs. Willie Murray, wife of the present governor. Oklahoma governors cannot succeed themselves, and Mrs. Murray tried to win her husband's place.

She had 11,625 in today's early returns, which put her in seventh place.

Foreign Ministers
Head Back to Geneva

GENEVA (P)—Foreign ministers of the East and West headed back to Geneva today for a "hurry-up" session of the dormant Far Eastern conference which may decide Indochina's fate in the next 10 days.

Pierre Mendes-France, French premier who won his office on a pledge to obtain a cease-fire by July 20 or resign from office, will join the conference for the first time and lead the all-out drive to end the Indochina shooting war.

Other top diplomats from both sides of the Iron Curtain either were en route back to Geneva or making their plans to arrive not later than next Monday.

GOING—British actress Simone Silva, who caused many stretched necks when she stripped to the waist to pose with Robert Mitchum on the French Riviera, has been ordered to leave the U. S. within 60 days. Immigration officials say though she came here on a pleasure visa, Simone signed a Hollywood movie contract and was receiving a salary, which is illegal.

Pilot Shoots Boy Aboard Plane

CLEVELAND, O. (P)—The pilot of an American Airlines plane expressed regret that he shot and killed a 15-year-old boy who forced his way aboard the airliner, but he said he had to protect himself, his crew and passengers.

Capt. William Bonnell of Fort Worth, Tex., was to return here today to be questioned by police about the fatal shooting of Raymond Kuchenmeister of suburban Parma shortly before the airliner's scheduled departure Tuesday from Cleveland's Hopkins Airport.

The youth entered the pilots' cabin, pointed a gun at Bonnell and ordered him to take off for Mexico City, the plane's ultimate destination. Police said later the gun was not loaded.

In Fort Worth Tuesday night where the airliner, the "City of Phoenix," was turned over to another crew, Bonnell read a prepared statement to newsmen.

"I feared for my life and that of my passengers and crew," he said. "I shot to protect myself and them. I feared he would kill the crew in flight."

Lamkin Tells of Reserve Unit at Kiwanis Meeting

The advantages young men released from the army have in joining a reserve unit and the duties of the unit were discussed last night at a meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Masonic temple by Captain Lonnie Lamkin of the local reserve unit.

Every draftee, who spends two years in the army, must spend six more years in the reserve, Captain Lamkin stated. This time can be cut to a little more than three years if the youths join an active reserve unit, attend the regular weekly meetings and attend the annual two weeks' summer camp.

Captain Lamkin also pointed out the reserve unit may not be called into service without special permit from Congress, whereas the individual who is spending six years in the reserve program may be called back into service at any time.

The local reserve unit, the 925th Replacement Company, which was originally set up for seven officers and 33 enlisted men, has been cut to six officers and 27 men and at present is in full strength.

The unit meets four nights per month and attends summer camp for a two-week period. It meets in the basement of the Rose building and the men draw pay for their two-hour meetings which amounts to nearly $2,000 each quarter.

The primary purpose of the reserve unit, a replacement company, is to be able to process recruits in event of an emergency, and be able to be organized and at the replacement center within 48 hours.

Seven hundred recruits would go through seven to nine days of processing at the reception center. The 33 men in the reserve unit is in charge of the processing, such as receiving the recruits, giving them medical exams, clothing and all items necessary for their service in the army. In addition all records must be kept by the reserve unit and the recruits must be given their basic knowledge of their army service to follow.

Attendance at reserve meetings include lectures, films, drills, keeping all the necessary records and work with weapons. They must attend in uniform, keep up all paper work required of any army company, and be on call within 48 hours.

The speaker was introduced by Glen Jones. President John L. Schork announced the club would meet at the Boy Scout camp at Little Grass lake next Tuesday evening for the regular weekly club meeting. Members will leave the Masonic temple at 5:15 and the dinner meeting at the lake will begin at 6:30 p. m.

Charles Pulliam was a guest of his brother, Cecil Pulliam, at last night's meeting.

U. S. Sells Surplus Butter to Britain

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States and Britain have made a deal which will cut U. S. surplus butter stocks by 14,600,000 pounds and put it on the tables of British families.

The Foreign Operations Administration, which announced sale of the butter Tuesday for six million dollars said it was the largest surplus butter transaction made yet. The butter, under an Agriculture Department agreement to sell government-owned surplus butter to foreign customers at the current price.

Louisiana Defies Segregation Ban

BATON ROUGE, La. (UP)—Louisiana today became the first state to defy the Supreme Court's ban on segregation in public schools with passage by the State Senate of legislation aimed at preserving separate schools.

The House-approved legislation, in the form of three bills, would give the state police power to enforce separate education for Negroes and whites. The measures are expected to be signed by Gov. Robert F. Kennon.

4. He has the utmost confidence in the integrity, loyalty, and efficiency of Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency. The forthcoming study of the CIA by a Hoover commission task force is welcomed by Dulles, and Mr. Eisenhower is sure that his old friend, Gen. Mark W. Clark, will do a fine job as head of the study group.

5. He has not entirely abandoned hope that Congress will act at this session on statehood for Hawaii. But he said the outlook is bleak.

6. In reply to a "biographical question" about his parents' attitude toward pacifism, Mr. Eisenhower said it is true that his mother belonged to a religious organization with definitely pacifistic tenets. But he said his mother never said a word to him about his decision to enter West Point and undertake a military career. As for his father, Mr. Eisenhower said, he had a Pennsylvania Dutch temper and there was nothing pacifistic about him.

Indict Two St. Louis Aldermen

ST. LOUIS — An order was issued today for the arrest of Walter W. Ziegenbalg, vice president of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen, on an indictment charging him with soliciting $250 for his support of a proposed ordinance.

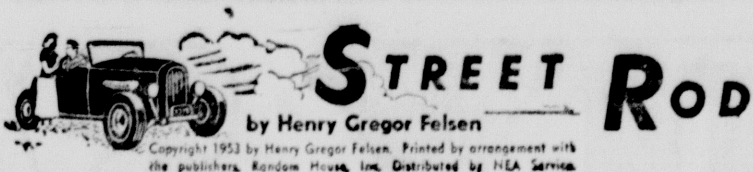

Alderman Ben. Oliver of the Sixth Ward, a Negro, also was indicted by the Circuit Court grand jury on the same charge Tuesday. Oliver posted $2500 bond pending a preliminary hearing.

Ziegenbalg, Fourth Ward alderman, was reported to be out of the city.

Both men under indictment are Democrats.

XIX
Slowly, almost quietly, Ricky led the reconnaissance through downtown Des Moines. Ricky's alert eyes picked out the lowered and hunched outlines of other rods parked along the streets, or moving along them. Most of the rods were from out of town.

As he moved past each parked car, or those coming toward him, he gave each one a quick going-over, and received one in return. At each passing there was a moment when their eyes locked, and they gave each other the cold bold stare, sizing each other up, always as potential antagonists, never as potential friends. In that momentary exchange there was a dare as well as an appraisal, and then they broke contact—for the moment.

Retained was a quick estimate of the other car, and from that some estimate of the driver. What might be under that other hood? The boys whose engines were a mass of chrome speed equipment proudly came out with the hoods off. They were the elite. They could ignore challenges from the slightly modified mills that powered the average rod. Ricky looked for rods that he hoped were in his class, where the power was even.

The first drag came up suddenly, the way they usually started. A black coupe, almost a twin of his own, that he had seen parked on Seventh Street.

Ricky stopped for the red light at Fourth and Grand, and the other coupe slid up beside him, inches away, hub to hub. Ricky looked over, trying to appear careless. There were two boys in the other coupe. When he looked, the driver raced the motor for a moment. Ricky touched his gas pedal. Then they both watched the light.

Ricky was in low, with his clutch in. The moment the light changed (give or take a fraction of a second), Ricky's clutch was coming back and his gas foot was moving toward the floor.

The little coupe shot forward with a tremendous roar, rear wheels screeching. The other coupe moved with him, matching his wheels turn for turn. Wide open in low, the two little cars rammed forward until the red light at Fifth made them slam to a quick stop that made the cars nose down toward the pavement.

A green light and they were off madly to be first to the red light at Sixth. Again they made it a dead heat.

Sixth to Seventh was the same story.

There was a combined roar of straight pipes, the squeal of rubber against asphalt, a mounting scream of laboring transmissions and the shrill drag of braked rubber.

When the light changed at Seventh it caught a pedestrian halfway across. He was in front of the other car when the light changed, but Ricky waited. The man walked in front of Ricky, and when he did, the other coupe took off. Ricky spun his wheel as he angrily set his car in violent motion. He swerved missing the pedestrian by inches, and took off after the other coupe. It was waiting for him at the next light.

Green light again. The other coupe leaped ahead. Ricky didn't jump with him. He moved ahead slowly, shifted into second, and watched the light at Ninth. When he was 50 feet from the corner, he saw the light change begin. Down went his foot on the gas pedal. By the time he reached the corner he was moving fast. He flashed by the other coupe, passing on the right, and opened up. There wasn't another light until Twelfth Street. He almost hit peak rpm in second before he had to brake for the Twelfth Street light. When the other car pulled up alongside him, he turned toward it with a grin of triumph on his face.

It wasn't the other coupe. It was a prowl car.

The light changed. Ricky drove across the intersection and pulled over to the curb. The prowl car pulled in ahead of him. He turned off his engine, and he saw the other coupe cruise by slowly. The guy next to the driver thumbed his nose. Ricky didn't know if it was meant for him or the policeman.

Ricky had his driver's license out before the policeman paused by his window. He knew the routine. And he knew the best thing to do. He assumed his meekest expression.

The cop held out his hand and Ricky handed over his license. The cop examined it and handed it back. Then he flashed his light at the steering column, so he could read the registration card. He didn't say a word, and Ricky wisely held his tongue.

The policeman pulled a ticket pad from his pocket and let it rest on Ricky's window. Ricky looked at it, then at the policeman. He was a big guy. Not fat, but big. He looked hard, but not mean.

"You trying to earn one of these, son?"

"No, sir."

The policeman's words hadn't been hostile, but his voice wasn't friendly.

"Your license says you're from Delville. Do you drive like that in Delville?"

"I... I guess not," Ricky said.

"What makes you think you can come here and get away with it?"

"Everybody else does."

"Does this street look like a race track?"

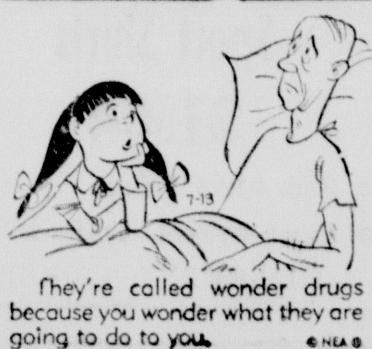

"No, sir."

"It did a minute ago, didn't it?"

"I suppose I was speeding," Ricky said. "I didn't look at my speedometer."

"Don't be a fool, boy! And don't think I'm one."

Air Force Tests Fighter, Reported Fastest in World

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Air Force is flight testing a spectacular new jet fighter reported to be faster than any warplane in the world.

Authorities said today the seraphy little jet—designated the XF-104—may become the first combat plane to reach a speed bordering on 1,000 miles per hour. Of radical design, it has tiny, straight wings mounted far back on a slender fuselage.

The Air Force announced Tuesday, without revealing any details on size or performance, that the XF-104 made its first test flight last February over the Mojave Desert at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Built by Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Burbank, Calif., the experimental plane was designed for daylight operations—intercepting invading bombers and tangling with enemy fighters over battle areas.

New Guided Missiles for Europe Forces

BERLIN (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said today American forces in Europe soon will have two new supersonic guided missiles equipped to carry atomic warheads.

Stevens said it was "reasonable to suppose" the Army's new WAC Corporal guided missile and "honest John" rocket would be shipped to West Germany in the near future.

The Army secretary, winding up a six-day tour of the 7th Army units, disclosed that units in the United States now are being trained in using the "Corporals" and "Honest Johns."

Stevens spiked rumors that the United States will pull troops out of Germany once Western Germany has rearm.

"The armed forces in Germany will be maintained at their full strength," Stevens said. The "Corporal" and "Honest John" missiles will increase greatly the Army's fire power along the Iron Curtain.

The "Corporal" is a guided missile which can be used for long-range targets beyond the 20-mile reach of the Army's atomic 280-millimeter cannon. It can be used in any weather and its powerful rocket motor drives it at super-sonic speeds.

The "Honest John" is the first medium to long range tactical rocket which can carry an atomic warhead. It is set up and fired like artillery.

Charge Reds Fire On UN Patrol Boat In Korean Zone

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist guns fired on a United Nations patrol boat in the Korean demilitarized zone today and the UN lodged an immediate complaint that the Reds violated the armistice.

The United Nations command said the attack occurred when the civil police patrol boat ran aground near a small island in the Han River.

The boat was one of those authorized to be in the demilitarized zone to police the armistice. It was the first incident of its kind since the truce was signed nearly a year ago.

An Allied announcement of the attack did not say if any persons aboard the craft were injured or give the number or type of shells fired.

Two Plead Innocent In County Court

Two men pleaded innocent yesterday when arraigned before L. M. Hancock, acting county judge, in county court here.

L. G. Diggs of Harrisburg pleaded innocent to charges of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving and his bond was set at $1,000. He pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without an operator's license in the court of Justice of the Peace Vern Joyner and was fined $25.

Joe Quick of Eldorado, facing Hancock on a charge of driving while his driver's license was under revocation, also pleaded innocent.

Both men were returned to the county jail.

Dallas Millionaires Seek Major League Franchise

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Six Dallas millionaires, apparently "running scared" for a major league baseball franchise before rival Houston grabs one off, claimed today to have 6 million dollars in ready cash and knowledge of where they can buy the team they want.

The men with the big money were coy. Even the spokesman for the unidentified millionaires, a syndicate of six to be expanded to 30, demanded anonymity.

But all of a sudden this major league baseball talk in Dallas seemed to be blossoming into something more than talk.

"The men in the group are live-wire leaders in the city," said Dick Burnett, owner of the Dallas Eagles of the Class AA Texas League and a man openly ambitious to operate a major league franchise provided it is properly financed.

Actually, it is a group of men who will operate along the plan of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association. It's a civic venture and they don't plan to make any money out of it.

A spokesman for the millionaires said Tuesday the syndicate was ready to spend "between 5 million and 6 million dollars" to buy a major league baseball franchise for Dallas.

Alston Names National League All-Star Squad

Three Lefties, Four Righthanders On Pitching Staff

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Manager Walter Alston will abide closely with the choices of the nation's fans when he shoots for a record fifth straight National League triumph in the major All-Star game at Cleveland next Tuesday. Except for left field, Alston's squad will contain every man who finished either first or second in the voting.

The Dodger manager, first freshman pilot in All-Star history, selected a pitching staff containing three lefties and four righthanders and boasting an overall mark of 66 victories and 36 defeats.

He has baseball's two top winners, lefties Johnny Antonelli of the Giants at 12-2 and Harvey Haddix of the Cardinals at 12-4. The other hurlers and their records through July 5 were Robin Roberts of the Phillies at 11-8, Carl Erskine of Brooklyn at 9-7, rookie Gene Conley of Milwaukee at 6-3, relief ace Harry Grisson of the Giants at 8-3, and veteran southpaw Warren Spahn of Milwaukee at 8-9.

In left field, Alston deviated from the voting by the fans when he chose Frank Thomas of the Pirates as his second man behind Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn. Everywhere else he went along with the fans.

Mays Relief In Center
Willie Mays of the Giants was chosen behind Duke Snider of the Dodgers for center field while in right Alston named Don Mueller of the Giants behind Stan Musial. A seventh outfielder named to the squad, Gus Bell of Cincinnati, was third choice of the fans for center field.

In the infield Alston's No. 2 selections were Gil Hodges of Brooklyn at first, Red Schoendienst of St. Louis at second, Ted Wodehouse of Brooklyn at short and Randy Jackson of Chicago at third. That was the way the fans voted for them behind their top choices of Ted Kluszewski, Gran Hamner, Alvin Dark, and Ray Jablonski.

Smokey Burgess of the Phils was the No. 2 man for catcher with both Alston and the fans behind Roy Campanella of the Dodgers. Del Crandall of Milwaukee, who ranked third with the fans, also was selected by Alston as a spare receiver.

Alston will be supported by two former N. L. pennant winners and All-Star managers as his coaches. Manager Leo Durocher of the Giants and Charley Grimm of the Braves previously were chosen to be Alston's aides by Warren Giles, president of the National League.

About Town And Country

and home in short order. I'm going to start saving my money right now to try to have $500 when they hit the market. I guess directional lighting, backup lights and white sidewalls will come extra.

I NOTICED in the Mt. Vernon Register News that it's easier now for Mt. Vernon motorists to pay their 50-cent fine for overparking at parking meters. (Yep, we're not the only city in the country that puts out tickets.)

The story says the city has placed four red metal Fine-O-Meter boxes (which makes everything fine, I suppose) on the public square, one on each side about the middle of the block.

"When police officers put a ticket on a car they also will include an envelop, with instructions on how the motorist can pay his fine without going to the city hall," the story says, and continues:

"The ticket, along with a half dollar, can be placed in the envelop and deposited in the coin box."

"The envelop is addressed to the police department and motorists who wish can mail their 50-cent fine instead of placing it in a public square coin box."

I have my doubts to whether the above system will work here, because the only thing good about getting a parking ticket is letting off steam down at the city hall.

NAMES MAKE NEWS: The journalism graduate got his first job as a cub reporter on a small newspaper. The editor was very explicit in his instructions. He emphasized that names must be obtained in writing all items. Later that day the cub handed in his first story:

"Last night, during the big storm, lightning killed three cows on the John Doe farm west of town. Their names were Bessie, Bessie and Florence."

Hunsinger Leaves For Canada to Train With Montreal

Chuck Hunsinger left today for Montreal, Canada, where he will train with the Montreal Alouettes professional football team.

The team will practice from the middle of July until the middle of August, when the regular Canadian league season begins.

Hunsinger was a first string half-back with the Montreal club last year. Prior to signing a Canadian contract he played with the Chicago Bears for three years.

The pro gridder, who lives on a farm in Independence township, has been doing promotional work for the Harrisburg Dairy during his stay at home.

His wife and two children will join him at Montreal around the middle of August.

Indians Score 11 Runs in First to Beat Orioles, 11-3; Giants Trip Dodgers, 5-2

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

If the Cleveland Indians continue to play the same kind of ball, they'll wind up in the World Series and Casey Stengel may wind up his association with the Yankees.

Stengel, in the first flush of pennant victories in the past, has said, "If we'd a lost, I'd have been gone and has indicated since then he will retire only when the Yankees fail to win the flag.

The way the Indians are rolling now, they have a 3½ game lead in the American League race and are playing at a feverish 778 pace in their last 27 games that is all but hastening Stengel's departure.

There seems to be no stopping the Indians. Take, for example, their 11-3 victory over the Orioles Tuesday night. They scored 11 runs in the first inning, marking their biggest uprising in a single frame since pouring across 14 runs in one inning during the 1949 season.

Glynn Starts Rally
Billy Glynn, who smashed three homers in one game Monday, led off the big frame against Joe Coleman with a homer. After two singles and a walk loaded the bases, Wally Westlake emptied them with a triple, then came home himself on George Strickland's single. Five more singles and two walks completed the carnage.

As if the game wasn't one-sided enough, Early Wynn pitched no-hit ball until Jim Briedeweser tripled in the eighth. Even though the Orioles got to him for four more hits, Wynn had as much trouble bagging his 10th victory as he does in polishing off a pair of small lamb chops for dinner.

Andy Carey's seventh inning homer snapped a 1-1 tie and sent the Yankees on their way to a 4-1 victory over the Red Sox but the world champions failed to gain a single inch of ground against the torrid Tribe.

Trucks Hurt One-Hitter
Elsewhere in the American League, Virgil Trucks of the White Sox, who has pitched two major league no-hitters, just missed another by one-hitting the Tigers for a 4-0 triumph. Harvey Kuenn's third inning single—a clean smash to center—was the lone Detroit safety.

Washington rallied for three runs in the sixth to beat Philadelphia, 5-2, as Johnny Schmitz was the winner despite a homer by Lou Limmer.

The Giants, refusing to let up on the second-place Dodgers, beat them for the fourth straight time within a period of nine days Tuesday night, 5-2 while increasing their National League lead to 4½ games. Home runs by Alvin Dark, Willie Mays and Monte Irvin were the key Giant blows. Sal Maglie was the victor.

Curt Simmons hurled one of his better games of the season as the Phillies beat Pittsburgh, 3-0. Smokey Burgess and Earl Torgerson, with four hits apiece, paced the Phillies' 17-hit attack.

Gerry Staley pitched a nine-hit shutout as the Cardinals defeated the Reds, 6-0, in a victory which was the victor.

Ronnie's, Shells, Texacos and NYC Win Kiwanis Tilts

Ronnie's Studio, Mitchell's Shells, Texaco Chiefs and the New York Central teams gained victories in Kiwanis league baseball play Monday.

Clark, hurler for Ronnie's, tossed a two-hitter at the Pankey Bakery team to gain a 13-1 win. Donald Biggs paced the winners at bat with three hits in as many tries. Hagan was the losing hurler.

Mitchell's won over the Athletic House, 5-2, with Powell the winning pitcher and Molinarolo the loser. Kenneth Dunn was the big batter of the game with a home run and a triple.

The Chiefs got a 9-0 victory from the Deuces and the NYC team was credited with a win over the Elks by the same score.

Games played last Friday resulted in a 16-12 victory for James Bros. over the Palace Clothing team; Karnes Hardware pounded out a 2-11 decision over Pankeys; Sahara Coals won from NYC 18-5 and the Lions defeated Pickford's Flowers, 10-9.

The defeat by James Bros. was the first of the year for Palace.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—World middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson goes after his 15th consecutive ring victory tonight when he takes on inexperienced Pedro Gonzales of Rankin, Pa., in a 10-round non-title fight in the auditorium.

featured Red Schoendienst extending his hitting streak to 25 straight games. Harry Parkowski yielded all the Cardinal runs before rookie Moe Savransky put out the fire.

Milwaukee massacred Chicago, 14-3, with Gene Conley coasting to his seventh victory. Joe Adcock and Del Crandall homered for the Braves, Ralph Kiner for the Cubs.

Finishing second was Mrs. Francis Bera of Inglewood, Calif., and her sister, Mrs. Helen Albani. They flew a Cessna 170.
The winner was picked by a complicated handicap formula; thus, the first plane in on the cross-country flight didn't necessarily have the advantage. Judges have been figuring statistics since the arrival deadline yesterday at 5 p. m.
